VOLUNTEER STRENGTH INCREASED

Healthy State Of Affairs

NEW SECTION FORMED

By the end of the current year, it is anticipated that the strength of the Hong Kong Volunteer Defence Corps will be brought up to the 950 mark.

This healthy state of affairs might correctly be claimed to be the direct outcome of the formation of a new section—the "M" Section Corp. 1st Battery, which was inaugurated on September 4, when 12 recruits were enrolled.

Since this date, nine further recruits have joined up. This is an encouraging sign as the "M" Section has only had two parades since its inception. By the end of the year it is anticipated that the strength will be brought up to 40 or over, all the members being fresh to the corps, and not transfers from other sections already on the strength.

The official strength of the H.K.V.D.C. as at August 31, was stated officially to be 882, which did not include 107 members of the Nursing Division. This figure represents an increase of 132 men over the figure compiled on Sept. 30 last year, when the strength was 750, with 77 members of the Nursing Division.

Thus with the 18 members of the "M" Section, the strength has now been brought up to 900 men all told.

The "M" Section, 1st Battery meets once a week on board the H.M.S. Tamar, when a lecture is delivered by Captain Gray, of the Royal Marines. Most members of this section have seen active service during the World War.

Those who have already joined this section include the following:—

Messrs. G. F. Rees, A. J. Macfayden, C. E. Moore, D. Cuthbertson, J. Hargreaves, G. B. Twenlow, N. J. Bebbington, W. F. Edge, N. Garland, H. H. Rose, B. E. Sugars, J. Hunter, K. S. Robertson, A. A. Andrews, T. W. Carr, Beach, Kerr, and Strahan.

Four of the above members were transferred from the "A" Section, Battery, of the eighteen new members, fifteen are Government servants.

BAIL REFUSED

Charges of giving a bribe of $220, to L.S.A. 99, Gough, were preferred against Hareband Singh, 30, P.C.B. 348, at the Central Court yesterday, when he appeared before Mr. W. Schofield.

Sub. Inspector Baker, prosecuted, and the defendant was represented by Mr. G.S. Hugh Jones.

Sub. Inspector Baker, stated that the bribe was given to the complainant as it was desired by two friends of the defendant that they be transferred to other posts.

A remand of one week was asked for, and when Mr. Hugh Jones asked for bail, the request was refused.

Defendant was remanded for 24 hours.

Celebrating Unified China

Political Party's Plan

Canton, Sept. 17.
It is reported that the Yunnan Provincial Tang Pu has issued a circular telegram advocating that the unification of China should be universally celebrated.

Reference is made to the ousting of the Manchu Government and the restoration of Chinese independence, and the civil war of military despots, during the past twenty-years, almost leading to the death of the nation, and all being due to the fact that the country has remained dis-united since the "Sin Hoi" year (1911).

"Now that the whole country's united and the Central Government and Marshal Chiang Kai-shek are working for the welfare of the country, all citizens of the Republic should unite in rejoicing and celebrating the Unification of China on a date to be fixed and promulgated," concludes the message.—

THE TIGER RETURNS!

NEAR KOWLOON RESERVOIR

Warning To Hikers

The Tiger is back!
It's spoor has been seen, measured and photographed by Mr. W. N. Winslade, of the Hongkong Police Station.

Yesterday while walking along the catchwater near the Kowloon reservoir, Mr. Winslade came across the tracks made in what had been very thick mud. The tracks were clear and were about 51 inches across.

There were altogether some fifty of these tracks going in all directions, and were viewed by another police officer with Mr. Winslade.

It is not difficult to deduce that the animal had been there since the last rainfall, which was nearly two weeks ago. Grass-cutters were questioned and they stated that these tracks have been seen fresh on the hill'sides.

It is also reasoned that the tiger has been feeding on the numerous wild deer which throng the New Territories.

Prevention is better than cure, and hikers are warned. There is no doubt as to the authenticity of the tracks nor the type of animal that has made them.

Chinese Gunboats Arrive

Position Of Warships

Five Chinese gunboats entered harbour yesterday shortly after 2.15 p.m., and berthed in the Naval anchorage, thus bringing the total of Chinese gunboats at present in the Colony to seven.

The Chinese gunboats that arrived yesterday were the Ch'or Tim, Ch'or Tai, Ch'or Yau, Ch'or Kun and Kong Shing. They came from Su Hing and are leaving on Sunday for Nanjing.

H.M.S. Diana, which arrived from Wei Hai Wei on Wednesday morning, and berthed at buoy No. 7, moved alongside the North Wall of the Naval Dockyard yesterday afternoon.

Others warships in port are as follows:—East Wall (H.M. submarine Regulus); North Arm (H.M.S. Dainty, H.M.S. Delight); West Wall Dock (H.M.S. Darting, H.M.S. Diamond, H.M.S. Delight); In dock (H.M.S. Moth, H.M.S. Lowestoft); Talkoo Dock (H.M. Submarine Regent); Foreign (U.S.S. Mindanao, Chinese gunboats Yung Chien, Yung Chi).

NEW COIN TO BE MINTED

London, Sept. 17.
The mint authorities are seeking to restore to favour the unpopular three-penny piece as it is more convenient than the bulky coppers. They propose a new coin of new metal which is neither silver nor nickel and slightly bigger than the six-penny piece. The Treasury is now considering the proposal.The 1934 mint issued £24,100 worth of three-pennies, of which £60,075 worth went to Scotland.—
Reuter.

THE BUDGET

PHILOSOPHICALLY ACCEPTED

Some Criticisms

There is such a thing as taking one's troubles philosophically, and from investigations carried out yesterday in the city by a representative of the "Daily Press", it appears that it is in a spirit of philosophical understanding that most business people have resigned themselves to the Budget with its estimated deficit of a most three and a half million dollars.

It was ascertained, however, that there is likely to be well-directed opposition to certain increases in taxation indicated as inevitable by the Government. Most vigorous was the opposition to the proposed increase in the motor car tax which it is estimated will yield an additional $40,000 for 1937. The reason given in the Colonial Secretary's explanatory speech for this drastic increase is regarded in interested circles as scarcely tenable on the score that it is necessary to help to defray the cost of certain road construction work which altogether cannot amount to more than $80,000. This total, it was maintained by certain business leaders yesterday, should be spread over a period on the basis of interest on the capital charge plus maintenance cost, which, of course, would be only a small portion of the $80,000 outlay.

Then, of course, there was adverse comment on the subject of pensions which have shown an amazing aptitude to mount year by year into almost astronomical figures. The feeling as expressed by actuaries yesterday was that the sooner the Government realises that a halt must be called, and a different basis found for the pension policy, the better. It was pointed out that anything which had to be done should be done without undue delay. It is, of course, presumed that any alteration in the pension policy would certainly not affect those who are at present under contract to the Government. In a word, it was maintained that any alteration should not—and indeed, could not—be made retrospective.

Regarding the raising of more revenue by means of the tax on insurance policies, it was suggested that the Government might well look to this section as a prolific revenue source. A sliding scale appeared to be the practical suggestion, but no one could offer any estimate as to how much this plan would amount to in additional revenue, but the sum was thought to be considerable.

On the whole, as was stated at the outset, the budget announcement is being taken very philosophically by the great majority of people, although a little less lavishment in certain directions would have been appreciated.

GENEVA RADIO CONFERENCE

Convention Aimed At World Peace

Geneva, Sept. 17.
The World Radio conference opened at Geneva to-day. All the League and principal non-League nations have been invited.The conference aims at adoption of a universal convention to use the radio for promotion of world peace. The signatories would undertake to prevent in their own territories broadcasts inciting against other States' population, broadcasts inciting to war, and ensure accuracy in broadcasts on international affairs. Nineteen out of forty States have already accepted the convention. Eleven, including Great Britain, subject to conditions, and the United States refused on the ground that broadcasting is not under Federal control.—

INSPECTOR HONoured

Presentations To Mr. Alexander

HON. MR. KING'S EULOGY

Inspector Cecil Fraser Alexander, one of the most popular and highly respected officers in the Hong Kong Police Force, who is proceeding to England on Saturday on retirement after a lengthy term of splendid service in the Traffic Department, was the recipient of farewell gifts at the Police Recreation Club, Happy Valley, yesterday evening.

"Alec" as the retiring officer is popularly known in the Force, will not only be missed in official capacities, but will also be a loss to Hong Kong motorists among whom he has won unfailing admiration through his courtesy and tact at all times. In the cricket field where he has been seen in action for the past fifteen seasons, he will also be missed.

A presentation from the members of the Police Club took the form of a radio set bearing the following inscription on a silver plate: "Insp. C. F. Alexander, from members of the P.R.C. on the occasion of his retirement, September, 1936."

From the Chairman and Committee of the Club he was presented with a cut glass rose bowl. From the cricket team he was presented with a blackwood stand on which was mounted miniature silver stumps, bat, balls, and a popping crease. The blackwood stand bore the following inscription on silver: "Presented to 'Alec' by his team mates on his retirement, 1936. Club bowling averages—1920, 1927, 1929 and 1934: Club batting averages—1920-23, 1926, 1927 and 1930."

"Conte Rosso" Delayed

Chinese Athletes Aboard

The Lloyd Triestino liner "Conte Rosso," with 130 Chinese athletes aboard, who had attended the Olympic Games at Berlin, has been delayed at Bombay, according to a telegram received yesterday by the local office of Lloyd Triestino.

The delay has been occasioned by engine trouble, and it is improbable that the liner will arrive at Hong Kong according to schedule. It is anticipated that the "Conte Rosso" will be delayed for three or four days. She sailed from Genoa on September 4 for China.

"We always use Lactogen... our babies thrive on it"

Says the Superintendent of a Medical Mission

"In the Medical Mission where we have to substitute mother's milk we always use Lactogen and we find our babies thrive on it. Mother's milk is the best food for baby, but whenever a substitute is needed my experience has proved Lactogen is the nearest and best suited food for babies. You are at liberty to use this letter."

M. F.

On Lactogen, Baby lays the foundation of a robust constitution—bone grows densely, flesh is firm, nerves steady, development is healthy and sturdy.

Lactogen is pure, fresh, full-cream, modified dried milk with extra cream and natural milk sugar added, made in all important respects exactly like breast milk.

FALL Fashion NEWS

Halo Bonnets Fashionable FOR BRIDEMAIDS

The autumn brides are making flying visits to town to see what there is new in wedding retinue ideas.

Hats and headdresses are picturesque, and it is interesting to find that two decorative modes, the halo and the bonnet, have survived with the new season. Bonnets, or halo-bonnets, are delightful for bridesmaids.

A Victorian sea-green velvet cap which had its halo in velvet flowers and streamers of net were dyed to the same shade. The bouquet was of all green foliage with net ends was to be carried and that caplets of net and velvet would be worn over pale green tulle picture frocks.

Worn by bridesmaids the bonnet and the halo are charming, but not the style for older women. To-day it is almost a social crime for mutton to pose as lamb, and there is no need to do so either in dress or headgear, as the vogue is so elastic and varied that it can be becoming to all types.

Aligrette feathers and wings are regaining their former prominence in a world of fashion. London's leading milliners all tell the tale of more luxurious headgear. Even the so-called "tailored" high hats are masterpieces in colouring and style, far removed from any idea of the sports hat. All the more formal headgear must show some decorative details, however simple the line may be. An aligrette and a jewelled clip on the cap of black velvet does not make for cheap millinery.

IMPORTANCE OF TONE VALUES IN MAKE-UP FOR FAIR AND DARK TYPES

Fair and dark are the two main types of feminine beauty in the eyes of the complexion specialist. The hair may be dark as a raven and the skin fair or light in tone, while the fair-haired woman may possess a skin almost gypsy like in colouring. Between and between there are numerous gradations which the modern cosmetician has to consider, and does so with complete success.

Cosmetics, as we understand to-day, can achieve the perfect and most natural make-up, when used circumspectly, but many women do not realise the correct properties of rouge, powder, and lipstick. Like the colours of a portrait painter's palette, cosmetics must be related in tone values from the first dab of foundation cream to the final dust of powder. The tints must blend perfectly or the "face" will be a failure, in the same way that a colour out of tone will mar a painted portrait.

GRADED COLOUR SCALE

The true cosmetic colour scale is graded for individual types of fair or dark skin, and the group cosmetic system ensures definite perfection in artistic make-up. Complexion powder base, powder, rouge, lipstick, correctly related in tone and colour, with eye shadow and eyebrow pencil having the same tonal value, give an effect that is natural and harmonious.

It is not given to every woman to be supremely good looking, but the art of the beauty specialist is an ever present help in improving complexion, eyes and hair. There is usually some special beauty feature which can be enhanced, and the charm of expressive lips, clear skin, and sparkling eyes will often redeem a face from the mediocre, especially with a clever make-up. Fortunately this is always permissible, but it should not be apparent.

Rouge and powder can be used as a help in achieving a better contour as well as merely beautifying mediums. Rouge will disguise tiny blemishes. Cream rouge is useful for this purpose, and can give the effect of greater width or length of face. With a long face, rouge placed nearer the bridge of the nose will improve the general contour of the features; when a face is too wide, the rouge can be shaded close to the ears.

Whether using cream or dry rouge a little cream should be first patted into the skin, and the colour blended and allowed to settle before powdering. The merest touch of colour is sufficient for modes in make-up incline to clear tones with the faintest tint of colour. A cream or golden tan is the present ideal, and rouge is used mainly as an offset to any tendency to sallowness.

The chief point is to choose the correct cosmetics, suited to the type of colouring, fair or dark. Harmonise eyes and hair colouring with the skin tones. Make the most of delicacy of colouring, but intensify when necessary. With dark eyes, for instance, lips may be treated a little more vividly.

One of the secrets of a harmonious make-up is to realise the tone values as well as the tints of powder, rouge and lipstick in relation to each other, and to individual colouring. It is this harmony in tone that bestows the appearance of really natural beauty.

Autumn PRE-VIEW

Period Styles In Fashion Show

Victorian, Edwardian, Directoire, Empress Eugenie and Second Empire styles, were all included in a collection of autumn fashions shown in London recently.

There were also:

Tea caddy sleeves on a lacquered satin evening coat with Chinese Pagoda embroidery.

Skyscraper sleeves on another coat of lacquered fabric.

Mitten sleeves separate from the dress had deep fur bands above the elbow and rings of fabric round the fingers.

Funnel muffs and melon muffs.

VIVID COLOUR SCHEMES

Floral decorations on evening dresses were in the shape of huge roses.

Colours were rich and vivid. There was a new crimson called Coronation, one with a hint of purple was named Durbar, and a new refreshing blue is entitled Royalist.

Much fur of all kinds was used for day and evening styles.

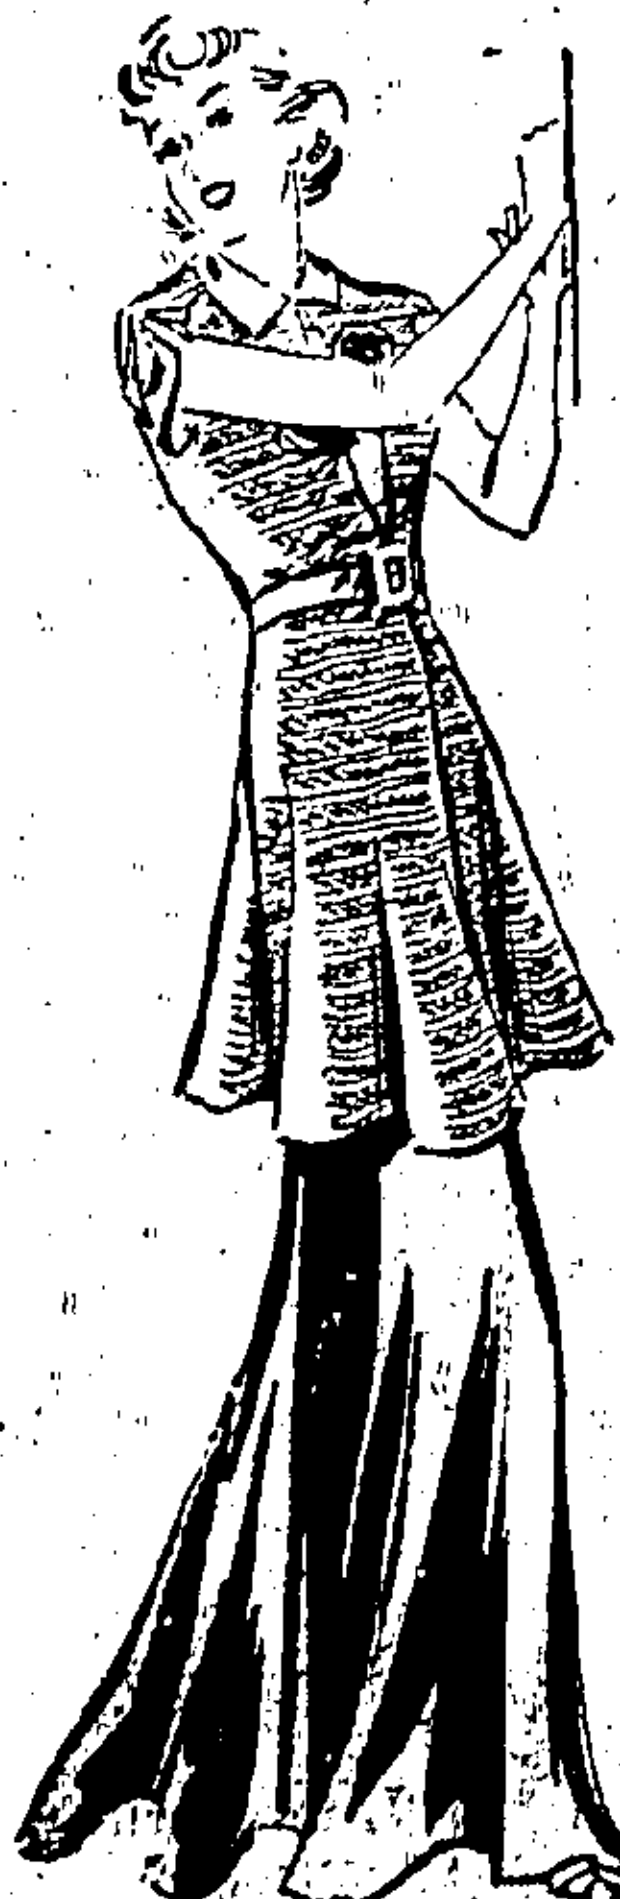

An attractive daytime suit was a rust skirt with a brown pony-skin jumper and a loose open-fronted, three-quarter coat of rust.

With it was worn a Russian fur cap of the brown ponyskin.

Nutria bordered the hem and neckline of a pinky beige coarse lace evening dress.

All skirts are full gored styles with the exception of those with suits.

Evening frocks are still rather high in front and backless.

FASHION SAYS... BLACK

Many new colours and new materials are used in the dresses for the new season, but black is popular with almost every designer. Paris, at any rate, still regards a black dress as the smartest a well-dressed woman can wear.

Black velvet is allied with cloth, with faille, with lace, with fur. Doing things by halves is a fashionable trick.

A slim-fitting evening dress of black cloth has an elongated triangular piece of black velvet inset down the front.

The whole of the back is black velvet, matching the cloak.

An evening dress is black velvet in front and black faille at the back, where the skirt, arranged in billowing lines, flows out to form a short train.

Another dress, of black velvet and lace, shows the velvet in front, the lace being arranged in frills at the back.

In a tailored suit, the coat, which is broadcloth at the back, is seal musquash in front. This arrangement is reversed on the short, narrow, tailored skirt.

Evening dresses have skirts slit at the sides, at the back and in front or at intervals round the hem. Slitting is not confined to narrow, straight skirts, but appears also on models which are gored from the waist downwards.

Coats or capes are worn with most evening dresses. Shapes range from short Eton jackets to elegant, sweeping ground-length coats.

A black broadcloth Eton jacket has three-quarter length leg-of-mutton sleeves made from jet paillettes. The coat is bordered with jet. The dress of black broadcloth has jet "froge" down each side of the slender, ground-length skirt.

NEW FASHIONS, NEW COLOURS

Called 'Coronation' And 'Durbar'

"Coronation" and "Durbar" are two of the colours christened at one of the first of London's autumn dress shows.

The first is a rich deep Malmaison carnation tone, the second has more than a dash of egg plant purple in its composition.

The Baroque models shown in these colours emphasised the voluptuousness of wide sleeves and the luminous richness of satin in full billowing skirts.

Mr. Val St. Cyr has designed some generous skirts. They are as sweepingly lavish as sleeves and collars. Even tweed outfits have wide, folded back petal collars resting on the shoulders.

PILLOWED SHOULDERS

So great was the sleeve interest at this showing that the designer sought inspiration from such widely different things as skyscrapers, and even tea caddies!

There were bustles of roses, and shoulders pillowed with them. Muffs appeared fur edged and microscopic—rather like little foot warmers of velvet and fur.

Bolero bodices were popular in the Collection—and one black frock of this type, with a wide cummerbund belt of gay striped silk, had the silk echoed by a striped satin petticoat fastened to the mannequin's knees.

A winter bride's gown had such enormous white fur cuffs that it was hard to tell them from a muff; another wedding dress had openwork embroidery, a farthingale basque, and a heart-shaped inset on the train.

WORLD VISITORS
TO CORONATION

Invitations Sent In Five Languages

Broadcasts in America and Canada, poster campaigns throughout the Empire and in foreign capitals, and attractive literature in five languages are "to tell the world" all about the Coronation of King Edward next May. By these means, it is hoped, there will be brought the London a multitude from all parts of the world to see the historic pageantry and join in the celebrations. Britain, next May, will be a land of light and colour. Throughout London and the provinces schemes of decoration and illumination are being considered and festivities are being planned. Empire and foreign visitors will find the nation at its best.

The Travel and Industrial Development Association of Great Britain is now devising the best means to "bring the world" to London.

"The results of our campaigns so far speak for themselves," an official stated to a Press representative. "The Silver Jubilee celebrations were a great attraction last year. This year the peace and prosperity of Britain have been a great incentive to visit our shores."

"From the United States alone, the number of visitors in June nearly reached the record of the 'boom' year of 1930. When the figures for July are complete, we are confident that the record will have been beaten."

"We are now preparing for Coronation Year. In the United States and Canada we have arranged a regular series of broadcasts on 'What is going on in England' or 'Just now in Britain'." Arrangements are being made for a detailed list of events during Coronation Year to be sent to all parts of the world.

HUSTON AS DODSWORTH

Walter Huston, one of the screen's best actors, is seen all too infrequently these days. For a long time he devoted all his energies to the stage. Then he was persuaded to come to England to play in Rhodes, and has now returned to Hollywood to play the title rôle in Samuel Goldwyn's production of "Dodsworth," the novel by Sinclair Lewis. Huston, who acted the part on the stage for over two years, claims to know every line of the play. He will be able to give valuable advice to his co-star, Ruth Chatterton, and to the rest of the cast.

"SAN FRANCISCO"

"San Francisco" showing to-day at the King's and Alhambra Theatres brings Clark Gable and Jeanette MacDonald together as a co-starring team for the first time.

The musical romance gives Miss MacDonald her widest scope in vocal numbers in her screen career—a total of nine presentations ranging from a solemn hymn to beautiful operatic arias. Clark Gable is seen in the rôle of a blustery Barbary Coast gambling baron who has no faith in anything but his own power and his charm over women.

Co-starring with Miss MacDonald and Gable is Spencer Tracy, as a priest; and the supporting cast includes Jack Holt, Jessie Ralph, Ted Healy, Shirley Ross, Margaret Irving, Harold Huber, Al Shean, William Ricciardi and Kenneth Harlan.

"San Francisco" is laid in the colourful period of 1905-06, its life of gaiety and song, its Barbary Coast prior to and through the disaster that levelled the famous Golden Gate city thirty years ago. The picture follows closely in the wake of the successes scored by "Naughty Marietta" and "Rose Marie," and comes to the screen as the third of Miss MacDonald's films directed by W. S. Van Dyke.

"ROAD GANG"

A picture of raw, stark realism, said to bare the terrors prisoners are subjected to in a penal institution run by grafting politicians, comes to the Majestic Theatre to-day under the title of "Road Gang."

Besides its terrifying aspects which make it of vital interest, there is a glowing romance of a girl who sticks by her man even when he is convicted of a crime, and who battles for his release until she eventually wins his freedom.

The picture is set in the sombre background of a farm conducted by a county for convicts and a mine where incorrigible prisoners are shipped. In the former place the brutality is almost medieval, but at the latter conditions are so terrible inmates are said to either go insane or die.

There is a wealth of dynamic drama and fast action, with thrill upon thrill, including a convict's strike and battle with police guards who use gas bombs and Tommy guns, in the bowels of the earth; a running gun fight between police cars and an auto in which a convict is fleeing for his life; and the blasting of a mine tunnel with dynamite.

The picture has an unusually large and talented cast which is headed by Donald Woods, Kay Linaker, Carlyle Moore, Jr., Henry O'Neill and Joseph King. Others include Addison Richards, Joseph Crehan, Charles Middleton, Olin Howland and Eddie Shubert, besides scores of others in the rôles of guards, police and convicts.

Louis King directed the production from the screen play by Dalton Trumbo, based on the original story by Abem Finkel and Harold Buckley.

CHAPLIN TO FILM AN ENGLISH NOVEL

Not To Act Himself

Charlie Chaplin is to direct a film called "Regency" which is based on the English novel by Mr. D. L. Murray. Miss Paulette Goddard, to whom he is engaged, will take the leading part. Mr. Chaplin says that he will direct and produce the film but not act in it himself. Production will begin when Paulette Goddard's first "solo" picture known as "Production No. 6" is completed.

By buying a scenario in England Mr. Chaplin is setting a precedent for himself, as his invariable custom has been to write his own scripts, or in earlier days, to make them up as he went along.

Mr. Chaplin showed that he is maintaining his reputation as a philosopher in an interview, which he gave a few days ago on the beach at Escondido, Lower California. He feels that the world has just gone through a great transition period and that the lessons of the depression have been hard but that they are proving very beneficial.

"A few years ago everyone went jiggling on the floors of night clubs with a vacuous look on his face," Mr. Chaplin declared. "That has been supplanted by an expression of serious endeavour. There is more sobriety, more naturalness, more simplicity and maturity. And the young people—they are well alive to the situation. This is a much more serious generation than the last one. The children are cognisant of the task ahead. They know they face a harder future than their parents did. Competition is keener, opportunities less."

Chaplin declared that he had come back from his trip to the Orient with "a greater respect for the natives of China and Japan. We often think of the coolie as merely someone carrying something, but actually he is often an excellent actor, a talented musician, and in many cases a capable artist," he said.

SCIENTIFIC PROOF BEFORE BELIEF

Declaration By Modern Churchman

"One very important point in which the modern Christian is compelled to differ from the ancient Christian is that the truths of the physical sciences, if they are to be included among Christian beliefs, must be held to be true only because they have been proved to be true at the bar of science."

This declaration was made by Dr. H. D. A. Major, Secretary of the Modern Churchmen's Union, at the Union's conference at Oxford.

He continued: "This applies also to all Christians concerning the dates, places, authorship and character of Biblical literature. These truths may be believed only if proved true at the bar of literary criticism. The same applies to Christian historical truths such as the virgin birth, the physical resurrection of Jesus Christ on the third day, the ascension on the 40th day after the resurrection, and so on.

"They can only be rightly held to be true if proved to be true by scientific, historical research. Here we know that Christian tradition is in acute conflict on many points with modern scientific conclusion.

"There must be some proof for every Christian belief, but the question is, what kind of proof for those Christian beliefs which cannot be proved scientifically? We have to make the great truths of the Christian religion our working hypothesis, and to observe as we test them, by living in obedience to them, whether the result supports them or not.

"An army of fanatical obscurantists led by sceptics is the great danger ahead of the Church to-day," he added.

FATHER WOODLOCK'S VIEW

The "Modernist beller and the plain man" was discussed by Father F. Woodlock, of Farm-street Church, London, at St. Aloysius Church, Oxford.

"God," he said, "is not an intellectual snob, who is only interested in, and values communion with, the University dons or the profound philosopher. Erudition is not a necessary preliminary to the acceptance of Christ's teaching."

Modernism, Father Woodlock asserted, failed to pass the test when applied to the average man's needs and capacity. The honest "plain man" was shocked at the duplicity involved in the practice of the modernist clergy, who reverently recited the Creed before God in worship at the altar as a preamble to a rejection of the articles of the same Creed in the pulpit.

Father Woodlock alluded to Dr. Inge's paper on the effects of prayer and his denial that prayer could ever alter the progress of a disease. "Apart from the medically attested miraculous cures at Lourdes, thousands of people in England both Catholics and protestants, have seen the beneficial results of prayer offered for the sick, and their experience disproves Dr. Inge's characteristically dogmatic statement."

Father Woodlock said he believed that the common sense of the "plain man" would save him from being won to the new version of Christianity, if only because he would recognise that from the "Christ of history" as modernism presented him there could never have arisen the Christian Church which converted a pagan world.

CHARLES "SWENONIS"

CHIEF JUSTICE'S COMMENT

Absence Of Ledger
Deplored

CLAIM IN SUMMARY
COURT

The Chief Justice, Sir Atholl MacGregor, sat in the Summary Court yesterday afternoon and heard a claim by the Wing Sang Chee Kee firm against the Kwong Hing Cheung firm and Li Cheuk Nam, managing partner, for $919.85 in Canton currency, being amount due in payment of goods sold.

While plaintiff was in the witness stand giving evidence, his Lordship had occasion to comment on the absence of certain books, without which difficulty would be experienced by plaintiff to prove his case.

His Lordship said that one should be as strict in summary jurisdiction as in original jurisdiction. He did not like "slip shod methods." The absence of plaintiff's ledger was deplorable.

Mr. Peter Sin, for plaintiff, explained that plaintiff's business was small.

His Lordship: Every business, however small, must have a ledger.

According to Mr. Sin plaintiff firm dealt in oyster sauce, which was used extensively in Chinese foods. Plaintiff had a branch office in Hong Kong. Defendant firm were exporters of this sauce to America and elsewhere, and they had a branch office in Macao.

ORDERED IN COLONY

The claim was for goods delivered to Macao although originally ordered in the Colony.

Mr. C.E.R. Sanderson who appeared for the second defendant, Li Cheuk Nam, said he denied partnership.

Mr. Sin, opening his case, said that the action was first brought before Mr. Justice J. J. Hayden on March 31. The Painsne Judge had noted certain remarks in his depositions which he (Mr. Sin) now desired to be acquainted with.

His Lordship said that so far as he was aware the case was adjourned sine die in order that the summons might be served on the Kwong Hing Cheung firm. The Painsne Judge had noted that first defendant was absent when the case was first called. There was no note of service, however, added his Lordship.

Mr. Sin: In that case I shall proceed against second defendant only.

Mr. Sin intimated that he would prove service at a later date.

The claim was adjourned till this morning.

STOLE SEWING MACHINE

Penniless Woman
Bound Over

DESERTED BY HUSBAND

A young married woman, Li Sul Chan, 23, stole a Singer sewing machine from Lo Chi Kan, of 473, Shanghai Street, second floor. She then pawned it.

Apprehended, she confessed to her guilt, but at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday Mr. Q. A. A. MacFadyen bound her over to be of good behaviour.

Inspector R. Shannon said that the complainant's mother missed the machine on September 15. She suspected the defendant, who lived at No. 2 Canton Road, second floor, and went in search of the machine at various pawn shops.

At the Tai Yik Pawn Shop, the machine was found. The pawn broker had paid the defendant $8.

Continuing, Inspector Shannon said that the machine was recovered, and the money was in the possession of the defendant.

After enquiries had been made, it was learned that the defendant had been deserted by her husband, and she was in poor circumstances.

Mr. MacFadyen: Has she any relatives?—No, her husband rented a cubicle and left her penniless.

Inspector Shannon: We are not pressing for any penalty. We merely ask for a binding over for a period long enough to meet the case, and we will look for her friends.

Mr. MacFadyen: Have you thought of the S.C.A.?—Yes.

Mr. MacFadyen then said that the defendant had to learn that under no circumstances was she to steal. However, since no one lost anything and the money was recovered, he would bind her over.

THEFT OF PIGS

Two Unemployed
Sent To Gaol

UNLIKELY STORY
TO BENCH

Tsang Choi, 36, and Tsang Kwai, 37, both unemployed, appeared before Mr. Q. A. A. MacFadyen at the Kowloon Magistracy, on a charge of stealing two pigs.

It appeared that on September 7, Liu Tai, 24, of Cheung Sha Wan Village missed two little pigs from his sty.

On information received on September 15, the two pigs, which had since grown, were recovered when the first defendant tried to sell them.

Tsang Choi said that the second defendant helped him to sell the pigs, but both of them told His Worship that when the typhoon blew down the sty and they saw the pigs walking about without an owner, they took them.

However, the typhoon occurred on August 17, and the pigs were missed on September 7. Sentence of six weeks' imprisonment on each defendant was passed.

JUNK CAPSIZES

Mishap Near Cheung
Chau Island

A fisherman walked in the charge room at the Water Police Station on Wednesday and claimed to be one of two surviving members of a crew of twelve who were precipitated into the harbour somewhere between Cheung Chau and Aberdeen, on Friday last, when a junk capsized.

The man, giving his name as Wong Fuk, appeared to be suffering from exposure and was immediately sent to the Kowloon Hospital, after giving a detailed statement to the authorities. He stated that he and another member of the crew, named Ng Ki, had been in the water for three days before being seen by a passing fishing junk and rescued. Ng Ki recovered sufficiently to disembark at Shauiwan, although suffering from injuries to his leg.

Wong Fuk was brought to the Water Police.

A sudden squall of wind was stated to be the cause for the craft capsizing.

The case is to be taken for committal.

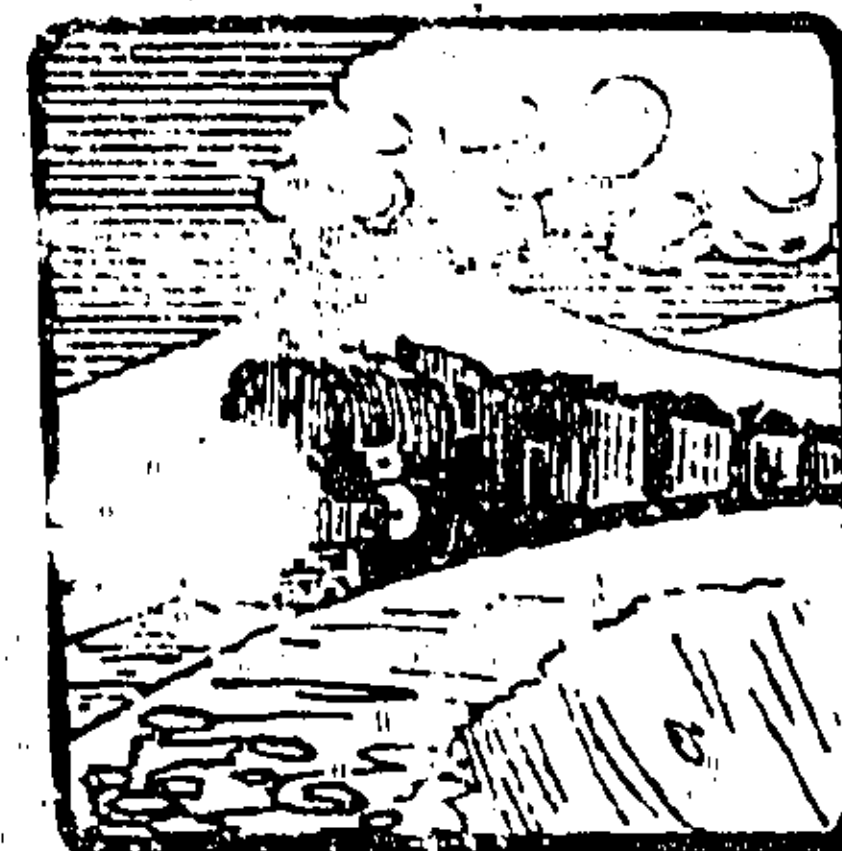

ANOTHER CASE

Among those present were: Mr. T. H. King (Inspector General of Police), Mr. W. R. Scott (Assistant Superintendent of Police) and Mr. T. Murphy (A.S.P.), Messrs. A. F. Shaftain, G. A. Stimson, R. H. E. Marks, R. J. El's, R. Shannon, J. Murphy, S. Logan, S. Saunders, A. E. Carey, W. Hollands, D. W. Fitches, T. McMahon, B. G. Baker, G. Carruthers, J. Hunter, M. Murphy, L. Glendinning, L. H. Okley, B. Thorpe, S. R. Farlow, G. Perkins, M. L. Clark, J. Danbrowski, C. Dowman, J. Orem, N. B. Fraser, J. E. Scott, E. Pope, W. Forrest and P. Loughlin.

POLICE CHIEF'S TRIBUTE

The Hon. Mr. King addressing those present said that two or three days ago Inspector Shaftain (the Chairman of the Police Recreation Club) asked him to make a presentation on behalf of the members and the cricketing members of the club to Inspector Alexander who was leaving on Saturday.

He told Inspector Shaftain that he, (Mr. King) accepted the privilege with great pleasure and yet with great regret as they were losing a great sportsman.

Inspector Alexander came out in 1913 and soon showed himself both in his appetite for work and his keenness for sport to be a sound officer. He carried out his duties as a police officer with conscientiousness.

Inspector Alexander, so far as the speaker could recall off-hand, was "the first motor engine driver for the Fire Brigade," when the Colony only boasted the first fire engine. The speaker recalled with amusement the initial drive down Queen's Road at 40 miles per hour on this engine.

Shortly after this episode, the next appearance of Inspector Alexander was with the football team of the Hong Kong Police force. "I daresay, to some of you present here to-day, this must be news, that Inspector Alexander was a footballer, since we know him so well as a cricketer," said the Hon. Mr. King.

While playing for the Police, they won the shield for the first and only time, said the speaker. He (Inspector Alexander) later joined the cricket team, and he was the backbone of the team "for I don't know how many years."

NO BETTER SPORTSMAN

The Hon. Mr. King said that he himself had been a cricketer for many years, with perhaps in different success—but he had not known a better sportsman to play with or against than Inspector Alexander.

"The highest tribute I can pay any man is this. I have yet to hear an ill word against Inspector Alexander," said the Hon. Mr. King, amid applause.

Referring to Inspector Alexander's history in retrospect, the speaker said that Inspector Alexander left the Colony to join up in the World War in 1917. Two years later, they were pleased to welcome him back and not long after Inspector Alexander was appointed "to what I might call 'The Minister of Transport' of Hong Kong."

Inspector Alexander in the opinion of the Hon. Mr. King, was a very able successor of Inspector Kent. Time and again, said the Hon. Mr. King, he (the speaker) had heard tributes paid to Inspector Alexander by the Government and the public for his tact, zeal and courtesy in the Traffic Department. It was in this direction that the utmost praise was due. "I have had many tributes paid from the public, which only reflects great credit to Inspector Alexander and the police force."

PRESENTATIONS MADE

The Hon. Mr. King said that he was struck by one quality in Inspector Alexander—and that was his generosity. Inspector Alexander was a good example to the police force as a whole. "He has always been a very popular figure at the club and on the cricket field and for this reason I find it a privilege to be here to make a presentation on behalf of the members of the club, committee, and his team-mates. While it is a pleasure to do so, I regret that Inspector Alexander is going away. I feel sure I have your consent to ask Inspector Alexander to convey to his wife and family our best wishes for their health, happiness and prosperity in the old country."

"I think it therefore more than fitting that the club, committee and team-mates should give a token for the esteem they hold Inspector Alexander in."

STABBING INQUEST

Formal Evidence Heard

COURT AGAIN CLEARED

Formal evidence constituted the greater part of the proceedings yesterday at the General Police Court on resumption of the inquest into the circumstances surrounding the death of Ng Yun Fong, who was found with serious stab wounds at No. 38, Kennedy Road, on July 16, as a result of which he died later. A woman Cheung Yee Lau, was also stabbed.

Mr. Leo D'Almada, Jr., instructed by Mr. W. A. Mackinlay appeared on behalf of the deceased's family, while Mr. M.K. Lo watched the proceedings on behalf of Yee Lau.

Mr. H.C. Lee appeared yesterday on behalf of Chan Sui Chung, a witness in the case.

Mr. T. Murphy, A.D.C.I. assisted by Sub-Inspector J. O'Donovan were present for the Police.

The jury consisted of Messrs. F.A. Mackintosh (foreman), D.D. A. Alongo and J. V. Gomes.

Evidence of the identification of the body was given by Wong Wah, servant in the employ of Ng Wah.

Ho Sang L.S.C. 112, testified to having seen the deceased both at No. 38, Kennedy Road and in the hospital.

COURT CLEARED

At this stage the Court was cleared.

Chan Tung, L.S.C. 222 testified to the finding of certain exhibits and was followed by Det-Sergt. C. T. Byron who gave formal evidence of the receipt of the exhibits. Further evidence regarding the exhibits was given by Inspector M. Murphy and Sergt. Cameron.

Lam Sam, a motor car driver, stated that he was attracted to the scene of the stabbing by shouts from Ah Kau, the coolie on arriving up stairs witness saw deceased lying on the floor. When asked if he could speak the wounded man only murmured in pain. Witness then turned to the woman and receiving no reply from her, telephoned to the Fire Brigade for the ambulance.

After telephoning for the ambulance, witness phoned the Police. Witness then returned to the room. Gow Neung asked him to phone through to the mother of the deceased. The deceased was meanwhile lying on the floor holding his stomach and wriggling.

At this stage the hearing was adjourned until September 22 at 2.30 p.m.

BLACKSMITH HURT

Cheung Pun, blacksmith, employed at the Hong Kong and China Gas Company, was admitted to the Government Civil Hospital suffering from an injury to his right thigh. He was at work in the Company's repair shop, when a portion of a sledge hammer broke off, striking him on the thigh.

The Hon. Mr. King then presented Inspector Alexander with a beautiful radio set from the members, a glass cut bowl from the Chairman of the Club and committee, and a blackwood stand, with silver cricket stumps, bat and ball from his "team-mates."

The gathering rose to their feet and toasted Inspector Alexander's health. Musical honours were then accorded this popular officer, which were rendered with gusto.

MR. ALEXANDER'S REPLY

Inspector Alexander in reply, said that he had come down with the avowed intention of saying a few words and "I intend to keep to it" (Laughter). It was true that he was a member of the Police football team that won the shield in 1920, but the police team, he hoped, would get the shield next season. They had a good team, and had done better during the past two seasons than for some years past. Last year they were runners-up in the league and were in the final for the shield.

As regards cricket, he was always interested in the game. Last season, the Police had enjoyed a good season. They finished second to the Royal Engineers. He thanked all for their gifts and assured the gathering that he would convey their wishes to his wife and family. He appreciated their good wishes and in reply wished every member of the force good luck.

"And now gentlemen, I'll ask you all to have a drink on me."

COMPLAINANT FINED IN ASSAULT CASE

Chinese Constable Discharged

TROUBLE OVER WATER BUCKET

The tables were turned at the Central Magistracy yesterday afternoon when Mr. S. F. Balfour fined the complainant $50 in a remanded case wherein a Chinese constable C. 219 was charged with the assault on Kwok Chun in Queen's Road on August 24.

Mr. J. M. Hall represented the complainant, while Inspector M. H. Hourihan represented the Police.

Mr. Hall stated that on August 24, the complainant was walking between Connaught Road and Queen's Street when he was struck on the head with a pole.

The defendant thinking that the complainant was in the fight caught him and struck him. He was instructed to take the complainant to the station, which was not done.

Whilst giving evidence, the complainant said that on his way to eat, he saw a crowd of people fighting. While looking on he was struck on the head by someone in the crowd. On leaving the scene the defendant caught him by the coat and poked him in the stomach, and accused him of being in the fight.

The complainant told the defendant not to hit him, but to take him to the station, which the defendant replied, "I can strike at my own wish."

After a time the defendant allowed the complainant to go free, who went to No. 7 Police Station and reported the matter.

Three eye-witnesses for the complainant, confirmed the complainant's statements.

It appears that the fight started over a bucket of water, which a young boy asked for, when he saw the fountain surrounded by Swatow folks. The water was refused, and the boy was struck by the complainant, and knocked unconscious. The elder brother came to his assistance, and snatching a pole, struck the complainant on the head.

A woman, Lai Lan, 47, residing at an unnumbered hut at Tai San Tin village, Kowloon City, was admitted to the Kowloon Hospital suffering from a centipede bite on the right wrist.

CRUISER STOPS: SAILOR RETURNS TO WIFE

The British cruiser Danae, bound for Gibraltar and the China Station, was stopped by wireless shortly after she had left Portsmouth, and a fast motor-launch was sent out to her.

It brought back to Portsmouth Stocker Wheeler, of Newcastle, whose wife, Alice, aged 30, collapsed after seeing her husband sail in the cruiser.

Medical attention was given to her, but it was seen that her condition was serious.

Orders were given for the wireless message to be sent out to the Danae.

Mrs. Wheeler, who had been staying at St. George's-square, Portsmouth, was taken to the Royal Portsmouth Hospital.

DEATH OF ENGLISH SCIENTIST

Discoverer Of German Secret Shell

The death is announced of Dr. Edgar Reginald Deacon, the scientist, who played an important part in the victory of the Allies in the war by discovering how to use amatol in filling shells.

Dr. Deacon, who lived at Eitham, S.E., and was fifty-four, was in charge of the high-explosive section in the research department at Woolwich.

In the early days of the war it was found that the Germans were using the explosive amatol in their shells.

Although the explosive was known in this country, the method of using it could not be ascertained. The difficulty was overcome by the research work of Dr. Deacon, who discovered a method for applying amatol to active military purposes.

THE INDIAN CIVIL SERVICE

Its Attractiveness As A Career

THE LIFE AND CONDITIONS

Writing in the "Glasgow Herald," a Special Correspondent deals with the details in the life of an Indian Civil Servant, its attractiveness and its conditions.

At this time of year many young men will be preparing to go up for their last year at the University, and wondering what they are going to do after they have taken their degree.

To the young man of independent mind the Civil Service, whether at home or in India, offers many attractions, not the least of which is that, if he makes the Civil Service his goal, he does not require to ask a favour from anyone. All he has to do is to pay a small fee and sit the examination in London, and the result will depend entirely on his own ability and assiduity and the skill that he may have acquired in circumventing the apparently insatiable curiosity of the examiners.

EXAMINATION POSSIBILITIES

If he gets through he has an assured position, whether at home or in India, with a salary which is adequate from the very start. The home appointments are few in number, and the standard of competition is high, but there is nothing to prevent anyone capable of taking a good Honours degree at Glasgow University from securing a place in the list which will get him into the Indian Civil Service.

In the past it was not so easy for a Scottish candidate to succeed without having taken a course at Oxford or Cambridge, and the number of Scottish entrants into the service was comparatively small, but as things stand to-day there is no reason why a much larger number of Scotsmen should not take the opportunity of entering the service of the Crown in India.

Those who have had the good fortune to come out high in the list this year will also be called upon shortly to make their choice between the home Civil Service and the Indian Civil Service; in view of all that has been said about India in the last few years, the choice is not an easy one, and there are some points on both sides which appear to deserve consideration.

PROSPECTS IN INDIA

It is sometimes taken for granted that the conditions of life and service in India have altered entirely for the worse in recent years, but this is far from being a correct assumption. It is true that the almost independent authority which members of the Indian Civil Service used to enjoy has been much circumscribed by political changes, and that owing to the rise in the cost of living their salaries, although they have been increased since the war, do not go so far as they used to do.

On the other hand the Indian Civil Service still offers very great scope for the exercise of authority in the interests of the people of India and the consolidation of the Empire, and at the same time holds out prospects of advancement such as no other service affords. A member of the service can still hope to become the Governor of a Province or a Judge of the High Court, and even if he does not achieve these heights the ordinary course of promotion will lead him to high office and a pension of £1000 a year on his retirement.

THE CLIMATE

Going to India is to-day a far less formidable undertaking than it was 30 years ago; it does not involve so great a break with friends and relatives in this country, and India itself is now a much more healthy country to live in. The science of tropical medicine has made great strides in the present century, and those who go out East can obtain adequate protection from diseases which formerly took a heavy toll of fresh arrivals.

Taking it all round, life in India for a young man is just as healthy as life in this country, provided he takes reasonable care. If he always wears a topi in the heat of the sun, drinks whisky rather than beer or cocktails—but never till after sunset and not too much then—and sleeps under a mosquito net at night, he will not usually need to worry about his physical condition.

Unless he elects to join the judicial branch of the Service, where his work is similar to that of a

Judge in this country, the first 15 or 20 years of his service will be spent mainly in the open air. For about six months of the year he will be touring round the area allotted to his charge, often riding 15 miles or more in the course of his morning's work, with opportunities for sport in his spare time. In most parts of India, such as he would never have in the same kind of position here.

LIVING CONDITIONS

The climate of India naturally varies greatly from place to place, but over most of the country it may be divided roughly into three seasons: four months of cool clear weather, ideal for touring in camp; four months of clear weather, "becoming gradually hotter till it is too hot to remain under canvas; and four months of the rainy season, which is rather like warm wet weather in July at Greenock. Of course, it is sometimes very hot, but on the other hand, there are none of those long periods of dark and dismal days that we have here in winter.

The interior of the country is far more accessible now than it used to be, and places can be reached in a few hours by motor transport, which were formerly as many days distant from headquarters by bullock cart, so that ice in the hot weather and other supplies are now available where they could not have been procured in the old days.

The increasing use of electricity for lights and fans deprives the hot weather of much of its discomfort, and only those who had to endure the inconvenience of oil lamps and punkahs pulled by hand can fully appreciate the change for the better.

SPIRIT OF ADVENTURE

Account must be taken of the natural anxiety of most people for security and certainty in their lives, but the spirit of adventure is not yet dead; and in any case they are just as likely to get the "dusty answer" in Buchanan Street as in the Chandni Chowk at Delhi. If they go to India they will have much more varied and interesting experiences than if they remain at home.

Those in whom the superiority complex is strongly developed should be advised to stay away, for there is no room in India for overbearing manners or harsh treatment. No one responds more quickly than the Indian to friendliness and fair dealing, and anyone who goes to India in the spirit of service to his fellow-men and to his country, will find there ample opportunity for the exercise of his talents; he will also have the satisfaction of knowing that he is doing something worth while, and maintaining the traditions of a great service.

SICK SCOUT'S PLUCK

Badge For Boy Who "Keeps Smiling"

Still smiling after two and a half years' suffering with osteomyelitis, a serious bone disease, Scout Graham Cyril Woodward, aged 15, of the 14th Hampstead Group, has been awarded the Cornwall Scout Badge, the highest decoration for "courage, capability and character."

Graham, states the "Boy Scout's Weekly News Bulletin," was taken ill in February, 1934, and has been in hospital four times. He is now in St. Mary's Hospital, still very ill, following a serious operation. At one time it was believed that he could not live.

His scoutmaster, Mr. E. J. Rowland, says the Bulletin, "stated that though he was in great suffering he always had a smile and a question on his lips about the troop. During his long period of intense suffering he has shown great fortitude, and is an inspiration and a fine example to his brother scouts."

"Dr. V. Z. Cope, surgeon to St. Mary's Hospital, said: 'I am very pleased to tell you how highly I think of the true courage and fortitude of Graham Woodward, who has been under my care for a serious illness for such a long time. I never heard him make any complaint, and always he has looked and been cheerful.'"

AGRICULTURE IN GERMANY

The gross returns of the German Agriculture for the past crop year 1935/36 (August to July), amounting to 8.8 billion marks, were approximately 500 million marks higher than those of the preceding year. This is partly due to the greater amount of products available for sale, as well as to the fact that cattle for slaughter brought higher prices.

The total increase since 1932/33 amounts to 2.4 billion marks.—Transocean News Service.

Industrial Health

Employers in Britain are more and more realising that economic as well as humanitarian reasons make constant medical aid in industry advisable, but calling in medical assistance does not end the difficulty.

There are certain things that a doctor can obviously do in all factories; he can recommend general principles of hygiene and the lay-out of building, but it is not always so easy for him to decide how much disease can be directly attributed to the trades he is investigating nor how it can best be remedied. The "Practitioner" for September has a most interesting series of articles on "Industrial Health." Some of the statistics of illness which are given are startling.

It has been computed that about 50 per cent of the fifteen million insured population in England and Wales "go on the panel" every year, and it is stated that "over thirty-one million weeks' working time is lost annually by industrial workers through sickness alone."

And as regards accidents: Recent official returns show that in seven great industrial groups no less a sum than £5,500,000 was paid in one year in respect of compensation to workmen for industrial accidents, and a sum of £10,500,000 in the same period for all industries and employments under the Workmen's Compensation and Employers' Liability Acts.

The actual figures for 1935 are 785 deaths and 136,858 reported injuries. It is with the prevention and cure of illnesses due to industry that the writers are mostly concerned, and one of the most striking articles is by Dr. Millais Culpin on "Psychological Disorders."

He points out the close connection between nervous and other disorders and the fact that what are actually nervous cases are often treated, if they are treated at all, as gastric or other more readily understood complaints. Such neuroses as writer's or telegraphist's cramp are well known, and it is estimated that miner's nystagmus, which may result in severe nervous breakdowns, costs about £600,000 a year in compensation.

With regard to poisoning, much investigation has already been carried out. Lead poisoning and silicosis are the commonest, but phosphorus, arsenical, mercurial, and other poisonings are frequently met with. Lead alone is used in more than two hundred industries. It is now compulsory to notify any case of lead poisoning to the Chief Inspector of Factories, but much is being done in factories to prevent the disease by better ventilation, more frequent medical inspection of the workers, and the use of masks.

The same preventive measures can be used to a certain extent to prevent dust poisoning, which is responsible for the large percentage of tubercular and bronchial cases among miners and quarrymen.

It is harder to discover by examination whether any particular trade is likely to suit any particular man. Physical fitness

MOLLISON'S AMBITIOUS
PROGRAMMENew York To Croydon
In Seventeen Hours

ATTEMPT TO BEAT NEW RECORDS

London, Sept. 17. Mr. James Mollison, the famous airman, interviewed by Reuter, detailed an ambitious programme. Beginning a month hence he hopes to fly from New York to Croydon in seventeen hours, and then try to beat any new record which may be made in the Johannesburg air race for which the South African millionaire, Mr. Scheessinger, is offering prizes to an aggregate value of £10,000.

Mollison thereafter hopes to fly round the world. At the equator he will be entirely alone. In all his flights Mollison will be using a new low-wing American monoplane reputed to be capable of 270 miles per hour with a range of 4,000 miles, but the Johannesburg air race is restricted to British aeroplanes.—Reuter.

DEPARTURE FOR NEW YORK

London, Sept. 17. Mr. James Mollison will sail this afternoon for New York whence he plans to fly to South Africa via London. He hopes to achieve the flight across the Atlantic in seventeen hours and, if the weather permits, he will take off about twenty four hours later on the London-South Africa stage of his flight. He hopes to break the record of both stages.

If he succeeds, the next venture may be a round the world flight. He has already flown the Atlantic in both directions.—British Wireless.

Nanking, Sept. 17. WARNING ISSUED TO AGITATORS

Hankow, Sept. 17. In obedience to the instructions of Marshal Chiang Kai-shek, following the unification of China, it is reported that the Hupei Provincial Authorities issued a notification on the 16th instant warning all good citizens to beware of the machinations of political agitators and bad characters bent on creating disturbances for entangling the Government with foreign powers. It is reported that the Central Government is in receipt of secret information to the effect that certain traitorous individuals have left for different provinces to create riots and disturbances with the sole object of involving the Central Government.—Chinese Evening Press.

is not by any means a reliable guide to immunity from various diseases. Not all men subjected to the same amount of dust over the same time develop silicosis, and it is not necessarily the more physically robust who are immune. It is difficult, therefore, to talk absolutely of one trade being healthier than another, for stronger men naturally choose the more exacting; the army is a case in point. But the classification in the Report of the National Service Medical Board is in itself interesting.

Agricultural labourers showed the best physical condition, and after them miners, engineers, iron and steel workers, lace workers, textile workers, and, lastly, tailors.

As a whole, the views expressed by the contributors to the "Practitioner" powerfully reinforce the principle that good health, good hours, and good holidays are the best foundation for good manufacture.

Take Office

Canton, Sept. 17. Generals Li Tsung-jen, Pei Chung-hsi and Civil Governor Chung-hsi and Civil Governor Wang Kuk-cho of Kwangsi took the oath of office in the Provincial Tang Pu at Nanking yesterday.

Citizens are now anxious to see how matters concerning the rehabilitation of Kwangsi Province are going to be settled by the Central Government.

It is reported that after returning to Canton and reporting to Marshal Chiang Kai-shek and General Yu Han-mow, General Tang Shih-tseng left for Hong Kong yesterday by the last train.

General Pei Chung-hsi has already decided to leave for Canton to see Marshal Chiang Kai-shek before going abroad for the purpose of studying military affairs, but if he is unable to accompany General Ching Chih on his return trip to Canton, he will wait until the reorganisation of the Kwangsi army has been completed.

General Pei Chung-hsi is responsible for the creation of the Kwangsi army, so it will be necessary for him to personally attend to matters connected with its reorganisation.

As already reported, General Li Chih-shum and Tsai Ting-kai flew to Loong Chow on the way to Hong Kong and it is said that General Li Chih-shum will be the first to go abroad.

Owing to the importance of Army reorganisation and the different financial questions involved, it is stated that General Li Tsung-jen and Civil Governor Wang Kuk-cho will leave for Canton to-day together with General Ching Chih.

It is reported that the Military Affairs Commission will send General Pei Chung-hsi on a special mission abroad to investigate military affairs in the different countries, and that he will probably leave for Europe in about one month's time.

He will be accompanied by Generals Li Pan-sin, Ha Wei, Wei Wan-tseng and others, and the mission will take from two to three years to complete its investigations.

But, before starting on his mission, General Pei Chung-hsi will come to Canton to see Marshal Chiang Kai-shek and seek his final instructions.—Chinese Evening Post.

Mr. Kawagoe, however, will remain here four or five days and General Chang Kai-shek returns from Canton, Mr. Kawagoe will try to arrange an interview with the Generalissimo, but if the Generalissimo stays in Canton for a prolonged period Mr. Kawagoe will shortly return to Shanghai.—Reuter.

It was presided over by Civil Governor Wang Mo-chung, and many of the leading military and civil officials were also present.

Marshal Chiang Kai-shek was to have addressed this meeting, but owing to his unavoidable absence, Mr. Chan Lap-fu was deputed to read Marshal Chiang's address.

Civil Governor Wang Mo-chung replied, and explained the importance of the work of reconstruction and creation of a New Kwangtung Province.

He expressed the hope that all educational societies and commercial bodies would co-operate in the work of reconstruction.—Chinese Evening Press.

GEN. LI TSUNG JEN
INTERVIEWEDProvincial Problems
Explained

Nanking, September 17.

The entire population of the province of Kwangsi are jubilant and in the best of spirit on learning from the Press this morning that Generals Li Tsung-jen, Hwang Hsu-chu, and Pei Chung-hsi have pledged allegiance by assuming offices of Commissioner of Pacification of Kwangsi, chairman of the Provincial Government of Kwangsi, and Member of the Standing Committee of the War Council, Nanking, respectively. This new turn in the political history of Kwangsi bears significance of the end of the nation's internal turmoil, which had engaged the intelligence of the whole nation for a solution for several years without success until now, and of the new era which is about to begin when the Central authorities will look after the finances of the province which have long been known to be the stumbling block of the development of the province's vast economical resources.

On the first day of his assumption of office, General Li Tsung-jen received a representative of Da-Dao News Service at his headquarters and discussed exhaustively questions relating to the future of the province in which General Li Tsung-jen was born and of which he is now in supreme command.

At the outset our representative asked General Li how he would dispose of the vast army recently mobilised in Kwangsi, to which he replied that in normal times Kwangsi kept an army of twenty thousand, but as a result of the recent preparations, the fighting strength had increased to a number of well over three hundred thousand! "As they were all farmers before they took up arms," the General went on to say, "there is not much difficulty in disbanding them when they can go back to their fields. It only takes some time."

ARMY QUESTION

"But how about the Nineteenth Route Army now stationed in the southern part of Kwangtung and the other newly-organised non-Kwangsi forces?" was the second question put forth. "The Nineteenth Route Army has begun withdrawing to Kwangsi, and as to the maintenance of the Army, which, in fact, comprises only one division, it is up to us to see to the well-being of this crack force which is an integral part of the nation's strength." After a slight pause, the General added: "General Tsai Ting-kai is on his way to Hong Kong now."

On coming to the question of removing the present seat of the provincial government to Kwellin, General Li remarked: "Kwellin is in many respects better than Nanking as the capital of Kwangsi. Geographically it is located nearer to Nanking. It has a healthier climate and no fear of inundation."

Shanghai, Sept. 17. Canton is the cynosure of all eyes to-day with the expected arrival there of General Li Tsung-jen, Kwangsi Pacification Commissioner, and Hwang Shu-chu, Chairman of the Kwangsi provincial Government, who will hold a personal conference with General Chiang Kai-shek. They are flying from Nanking in a chartered plane with General Chen Chien, chief of General Staff and General Huang Shaoh-sung, Governor of Chekiang.

In the meanwhile Chinese reports state that the 19th Army under General Oong Chao-sun has started to withdraw from Pakhoi.

It is stated that General Yu Han-mow, Pacification Commissioner, has instructed the first, fifth and fourth divisions of the Fourth Army, of which he is commander, to move from Loking to Pakhoi as soon as Oong's troops have completed withdrawal.—Reuter.

The Da-Dao representative had a further interview with General Pei Chung-hsi, who, at the request of Marshal Chiang Kai-shek in the capacity of chairman of the War Council, also swore in as Member of the Standing Committee of the War Council at the same time with Generals Li Tsung-jen and Hwang Hsu-chu, although his actual post is in Nanking.

TRIP ABROAD

General Pei, in reply to the question whether he would proceed to Nanking to assume his duties or go abroad as was reported, said that he had cherished for nearly ten years the hope that he would some day go abroad to study the military conditions of various countries of the world.

"Would you visit the Capital first before going abroad?" asked our representative.

"Well, well," was the reply, "that's a very good idea; but as you see my thirst of going abroad to study is not at all a light one, and I should like to have it quenched first. In the event of the nation needing my services, I will waste no time in hurrying home to report to duty immediately on receiving instructions."

At this stage of the conversation, our representative informed the General that the populace in Canton are making preparations to accord a cordial welcome to him on his forthcoming visit to that city, and asked him whether he could accompany General Ching Chien to fly to Canton. General Pei replied that he would very much like to do so, but as General Li Tsung-jen was mostly absent from the province, he had to see to the reorganisation of the forces. The work would take some time and when this was completed, he would immediately start his journey eastward to submit a full report to Marshal Chiang Kai-shek.—Da-Dao News Service.

Shanghai, Sept. 17.

The danger of a Sino-Japanese clash at Pakhoi is diminished to-day when the truculent anti-Japanese Nineteenth Route Army completed evacuation of the city which was immediately taken over by troops of General Yu Han-mow. Mr. Ling Shih-feng, the Chinese official sent to Pakhoi to investigate the slaying of the Japanese druggist Nakano but who returned to Canton without success, has again left for Pakhoi.

It is presumed that the Japanese officials who were refused permission by the leaders of the 19th Route Army to land at Pakhoi off the gunboat Saga to investigate the incident will now be allowed to do so.

It is learned that General Tsai Ting-kai, field commander of the 19th Route Army, who left Nanking on Tuesday is not proceeding to Hong Kong as first reported but to Chulin near the Kwangsi-Kwangtung border.—Reuter.

SYNTHETIC RUBBER CHALLENGE

German Claims For New Discovery

INVESTIGATIONS BY LONDON BROKERS

Competition Fears Allayed Temporarily

London, September 12.

The bogey of imminent competition of synthetic with natural rubber appears at least temporarily laid to rest by the result of investigations by Messrs. Symington Wilson, leading rubber brokers, into the German claims for Buna, which is a synthetic substitute derived from lime and coal.

This firm states: "From a source we believe entirely reliable, we hear the German synthetic product at present costs five marks per kilo, equal at current rate of exchange to 3/7d. a pound. It is hoped in Germany that the cost will in time be halved, but even at 1/9d. a pound Buna will not be a serious competitor of natural rubber."

"The statement that tyres made from this material have been used on vehicles belonging to the Army Post Office is probably perfectly true, but what is not stated is what mileage these can run."

BUNA'S DRAWBACKS

Our information is that tyres made entirely from Buna will not have the necessary wear-resisting properties and will last only for a very modest mileage.

"Another most important point is that Buna, being a synthetic material, has only one life and cannot be reclaimed."

"Further a tyre made from a mixture of rubber and Buna while giving longer mileage than one made from Buna alone, has no reclaiming value, so any rubber used in making such a tyre is definitely lost. For this reason, as Germany wants all the reclaimed rubber she can get, Buna cannot be used for tyres."

Whilst it is true that the present price of Buna is six times as high as natural rubber, it is not altogether unanimously admitted that it is unable to wear well, some quarters even affirming it will wear better than the natural product, but hitherto only used for tyre threads owing to unreclaimability.

The American Dupont Denemours product Duprene, which is now selling at U.S.$1.05 a pound and successfully used in certain machinery parts etc. where long wear balances high cost, is not likely to prove a serious rival to natural rubber since producers realise it is only commercially profitable for specialised uses and have no intention of lowering the price substantially.

SPANISH MINISTER INTERVIEWED

BILBAO ATTACK LAUNCHED

Air Raids Precede Offensive

San Sebastian, Sept. 16.

After a pause of four days in military operations, which had been ordered by General Mola, in order to give his troops a much needed rest after the strenuous offensive of the past few weeks, operations have again begun, with attacks on Bilbao.

After warning the foreign residents to leave the town at once, in view of the imminent bombardment, the insurgents prepared the attack by several air raids. The vanguard of the nationalists followed closely on the heels of the retreating Reds.

It is declared here that the Marxists lost numerous followers during the last few days along the coast of Biscay, with the exception of the cities of Bilbao and Santander. The fading influence of barbarism committed by the Left extremists, have now become known among the general population despite the strict press censorship.

The number of Red troops on the Northern Coast is estimated at about 40,000, the majority of whom are however badly armed. The morale of the Red troops, according to reports here, was seriously affected by the recent defeats, as well as by the prevailing food shortage.

In San Sebastian the broadcasting station, telephone and telegraph lines are again working in good order and service, and the Railway line San Sebastian-Pamplona-Burgos will be re-opened immediately after completion of repairs. On Tuesday the inhabitants of San Sebastian, who for weeks had received all their information from the Red Press, were again able to read the local Nationalist paper.

ANARCHIST DISORDER

Hendaye, Sept. 17.

A tense situation prevails in Santander where the anarchists have assumed power, according to a message received here. It is reported the anarchists are dictating to the police and dispensing justice. One Socialist deputy has been arrested and another has fled.

Clashes, in which shots have been exchanged, have occurred nightly, between anarchists and members of the Popular Front.

Big Government troop movements are reported in the Oriz district, which is held partly by the Government and partly by the insurgents.

Heavy hand-to-hand bayonet fighting has been in progress on the Saragossa front, according to radio messages from Seville, while on the southern front, says a radio broadcast from Cordoba, the Government troops were defeated and pursued for 25 miles.

FRENCH STRIKE SITUATION

Factory Heads Held Hostages

(“Hong Kong Daily Press” Special)

Paris, Sept. 17.

Recourse has again been made to the system of hostages in the new strike which broke out in the artificial silk factory “Rhodiaceta” in Lyons. The workers occupied the factory premises and detained the managing director, Lombard, and the two managers, Bonnet and Value, as well as one engineer. The “prisoners” were each guarded by four workers armed with truncheons and were given no opportunity, since their capture, to communicate with their relatives. The police commissioner of the district began to conduct negotiations with the men who are on strike with the hope of securing the release of the hostages, but up to the present apparently without success.

The strike movement is also spreading to the Vosges district, where 67 factories are now idle, 59 being occupied by workers.

In Thion several thousand employees were willing to work, but were turned back by a detachment of mobile guards armed with truncheons, to prevent clashes between the strikers and those willing to work. The National Workers' Association thereupon occupied the Municipal Administration buildings for several hours.

UNUSUAL EVENT

Paris, Sept. 17.

An event described as unprecedented in the history of the strike movement in France has occurred at Lyons, where stay-in-strikers in an artificial silk factory nominated a “Committee of Direction” with Communist foremen and began working the looms themselves.

The incident occurred after the management refused to dismiss a woman overseer on the demand of 400 of the 1,500 workers.

DETAILS OF TRAGEDY

Copenhagen, Sept. 16.

Dr. Jean Charcot, leader of the French polar expedition in the ship Pourquoi Pas, together with all but one of his crew, perished when the exploration ship struck off the coast of Ireland in a fierce storm, according to an official message from Greenland.

Thirty bodies are already reported to have drifted ashore.

An Icelandic gunboat which has arrived near the wreck of the French exploration vessel Pourquoi Pas, reports that the “masts are showing above the waves, but that there is no sign of any survivors.”

GRAPHIC STORY

A graphic story of the disaster was told to-day by Eugene Goude, a member of the crew, and sole survivor of the whole expedition, who swam through a pounding surf and was dragged from the sea.

He states the vessel was compelled to return from the Cape Reykjavik to seek shelter at Reykjavik.

In a storm the vessel ran aground in the early morning, sprang a leak and put her engines out of action.

Terrific seas broke over the ship, preventing the launching of lifeboats or getting into life-belts. The vessel was continually submerged under huge seas and one by one the men were washed overboard.

Jerusalem, Sept. 15.

A feeling of profound pessimism prevails following the banning of the conference of the Arab Strike Committees by the Government.

The Committees will meet separately and then report to the higher Arab Committee, but no conclusive result is considered likely.

A strong movement to discontinue the strike has appeared among the Jaffa orange-growers, shippers and port workers, who do not wish to lose the advantages of the export of the season's crop.

The export crop is expected to amount to 11,500,000 oranges, and continuation of the strike would ruin the Arab growers. They propose to continue contributions towards the funds for assisting the terrorists, thus satisfying both the terrorists and commercial circles.

SERIOUS CLASHES IN POLAND

Communists Attack Police

Warsaw, Sept. 16.

Serious clashes between police and communists, in which six persons were killed, occurred at the town of Zukow in the Province of Lublin, when the police were searching the flats of Left wing radicals.

Groups of Communists suddenly attacked the police officers, firing a volley of shots from their revolvers. The police returned the fire and killed five of the assailants. Three police officers were seriously wounded, one of them dying in hospital despite immediate medical aid.

SEEKING POST FOR MAJOR FEY

Vienna, Sept. 17.

Efforts are being made to restore the former Minister of Interior, Major Fey to an influential post in the Home Defence Corps, and 40,000 signatures have been collected by Fey's supporters for a document demanding the former Minister's appointment to the leadership of the Viennese district of the organisation.

Prince von Starhemberg, it is asserted, emphatically opposed such a measure, and is said to have been dissuaded only with difficulty from ordering the expulsion of 55 subordinate leaders of the Home Defence Corps who signed the petition demanding Fey's reinstatement.

Y.M.C.A. ANNUAL MEETING

Various Committees Appointed

Discussing the winter programme and the election of sub-committees to arrange the various functions was the business which was dealt with at the annual meeting of the Y.M.C.A. which was held in the West Lounge yesterday.

Mr. P. S. Cassidy took the chair and was supported by the Hon. Secretary, Mr. R. Ingram, and the Assistant Hon. Secretary, Mr. W. J. Ashton.

In opening the meeting Mr. Cassidy mentioned that it was only when there was heavy co-operation with the Chairman that the ideal of any society was reached. In this respect, he hoped that the various committees which were to be elected would strive to attain this ideal.

It was a privilege to be on the committee and he only hoped that the future members would show a little more activity. The members in general were greatly indebted to the committees for in the main they had pulled with their full weight.

It was the plan, as far as was possible, to leave some of the old members on the committees to encourage the newer members.

The following members were then elected to the various committees: House Committee—W. Henderson, A. J. Taylor, C. Manning, R. A. Bates, L. Macey, F. Tyndall and F. Bruen.

Social Committee—J. J. Ferguson, F. D. Angus, J. C. M. Grenham, T. R. Ingram, D. G. Wilson, S. Tremlett, R. A. Bates, G. R. Leiby and A. M. Holland.

Literary and Debating Committee—S. A. Gray, D. K. Paul, L. J. Gay, Breerton, N. Stockton, L. Starbuck, Rev. J. McLean, W. N. Winslade and Prof. W. Robertson.

A.D.C. Committee—W. Robertson, D. K. Paul, W. J. Brown, F. D. Angus, Rev. J. McLean, J. J. Ferguson, T. R. Ingram and R. A. Bates.

Library Committee—A. White, J. M. Wilson, T. J. Price, E. R. Price, D. L. Luard, R. A. Bates, J. J. Ferguson, and R. McNeil.

Services Social Committee—V. M. Benwell, L. G. Coombes, A. Foster, A. Fruen, C. Manning and E. Lloyd Jones.

NEW DRUMHORSE FOR SCOTS GREYS

Lairdsburn, a five-year-old Irish horse, is to succeed Rex as the drumhorse of Scotland's renowned cavalry regiment—the Royal Scots Greys.

Like Rex, who had to be shot last week after falling in the barrack square, the new drumhorse is black. He stands 17 hands, and is well fitted to the task of carrying the heavy drums and magnificent trappings; but he is not trained.

The regiment must have a perfectly docile drumhorse in time for the Coronation next May, and the rough-riding sergeant-Sergeant William Cowell—has been given the job of training the horse. He told a correspondent recently:

"For a time Lairdsburn will be put through the ordinary test to which every troop horse is subjected. Six months from now, however, I think you will find a big difference, for I am convinced we can train him into a worthy successor to poor old Rex, one of the best drumhorses the regiment ever had."

TRAINING WITH TINS
Biscuit tins will be used instead of the drums in the early stages of the horse's training, and as it is essential that he should become accustomed to noise, the men of the regiment will shout at the top of their voices, and rattle tins as the horse is marched round the barrack square.

Practically every horse in the Greys is named after a Scottish

DERBYSHIRE WIN CRICKET CHAMPIONSHIP

BRILLIANT ACHIEVEMENT

Club Founded In 1870

The records of cricket tell us that Derbyshire, first won the County Championship in 1874. At that time the smallest number of games decided the competition, and as Derbyshire played only three matches against the twelve of Yorkshire, who were victorious in eight of them, their right to top place was hardly convincing. But whatever their merits may have been then, there is no doubt that they have won the Championship fairly and squarely this season.

The Derbyshire County Club was founded in 1870, but after a few years the team ceased to play first-class matches. It was not until 1895 that they again took part in the Championship, and their position at the end of the season was seventh. In the following year they dropped to bottom place; but although they met with only moderate success for a long time, their cricket always had character. The eleven was largely composed of strong, sturdy, blunt men, a tough crowd in more senses than one.

In those days there was no winter pay for professionals, and in the off-season most of the Derbyshire team were engaged in manual labour. Some went down the mines and delved for coal.

One of them was a chimney sweep. His name was Porter, a very tall man with exceptionally long arms, who banged the ball down fast from great height and often made it rise uncomfortably from wickets which were not then "doped."

If Freeman, of Kent, had been playing in those days he would probably have said that Porter's bowling wasn't fair.

Then there were at that time George Davidson, one of the earliest players to score a thousand runs and to take a hundred wickets in one season of first-class cricket; S. H. Evershed, who captained the side tactfully through some difficult years besides getting runs when they were most wanted; Bogshaw, a hard-hitting left-hander; Chalerton, the embodiment of patience; L. J. Wright, famed for his fielding at point; Hulme, a clever left-handed bowler; and William Storer, an uncle of the present Derbyshire man of the same name.

WICKET-KEEPER-BOWLER

William Storer was in his way the finest cricketer of them all. He was good enough to keep wicket for England in Test matches, and his batting was so highly regarded that when "Lili" was chosen as "stumper" in a Lord's Gentlemen v. Players match Storer was included in the professional side for his run-getting possibilities. He was also a useful bowler and it was not an uncommon sight to see him take off his pads and go on with slow leg breaks. He often broke up an awkward partnership.

Later came A. E. Lawton, perhaps the finest outfield of his generation; C. A. Ollivier, a brilliant coloured batsman imported from the West Indies; and Bestwick and Warren, both very fast bowlers, who would scare some of our present batsmen if they were bowling now as they did thirty years ago. Bestwick, very powerful in build, broad as a door, had an uncommon knack for a man of his pace of appearing to break from leg. Warren could make the ball come back very quickly from the off, and in his only Test match of 1905 got rid of Victor Trumper for 8 and 0.

Others who came into prominence later still were Cadman and Morton, both valuable all-round men, equally good with bat and ball.

Whether the present team, with all their merits, are as strong as others that represented the county in some long-past years when they were far from heading the county's list is doubtful. The Derbyshire side of the 'nineties had to meet far stronger opponents. There are no Ranjits and MacLarens and Lockwoods and Tom Richardsons loose in the land to-day. But the men who have carried their county to the heights this summer are solidly sound, worthy champions.

town, glen or lake, but the new drumhorse has taken the name of the boat which brought him over from Ireland.

ST. ANDREW'S CLUB

Report On Activities In Past Year

The annual report of St. Andrew's Club states that the number on the roll at the beginning of the year under review was 84. Eight new members were elected and 4 resigned, making the number 88 at the close of the year.

Considerable interest was shown in Club badminton during the year. In the open League our 'A' team occupied fourth place, and won the trophy presented by Mr. F. H. Kwok. In the Mixed Doubles we finished sixth.

Due to having no ground at our disposal, the men's hockey team only played three games in the League, and withdrew later in the season. Owing to a number of players leaving, our Ladies' Team was considerably weakened, and did not fare as successfully as in former years. Two members of the Ladies' team represented Hong Kong in the Interport match against Shanghai in January.

The Annual Marathon Race was run on the 16th March, and attracted 13 entries from the Services. No civilian entries were received.

During the last Winter, members rendered assistance at the Kowloon Shelter on Tuesday of each week.

CLUB SECRETARY

In view of his departure from the Colony, Dr. H. D. Matthews resigned the secretaryship on the 31st January. Dr. Matthews was presented with a pair of binoculars from members at a farewell social in February.

During the year, the following gentlemen very kindly gave lectures for members and their friends, Mr. T. C. Ellacott, Prof. W. Brown and the Rev. C. B. R. Sargent.

The Club put on three one-act plays in April, which were thoroughly enjoyed. Numerous opinions have been expressed by members of the audience all of whom compliment the producers and players on their fine showing.

A number of dances and socials were held during the year and were well supported. Monthly whist drives were held, but, while being enjoyable, were poorly supported.

The bathing season is now nearing its close, and has met with the same measure of success as in previous years.

The financial statement shows a loss of $68.89 on the year's work, but due to increased expenditure as a result of league badminton.

NEW AIRPORTS PLANNED FOR MALAYA

More Squadrons For The East

New airports and airfields are to be built throughout Malaya, forming a strategic chain linking Singapore to the interior.

The main R.A.F. station is at present on Singapore Island, but there is also a huge airport at Selat, the headquarters of the Far East Command, where squadrons of flying-boats and torpedo bombers are stationed.

Two more R.A.F. airfields are under construction, one at Tengah, on the west side of the island, and one at the site known as "G3," near the Singapore naval base. Additional squadrons are to be stationed at each of these airfields in the near future.

Now it is announced that various other landing-grounds are to be laid down at various points along the peninsula. Sites have been selected so as to give the R.A.F. squadrons increased mobility. The airfields on the mainland are under civil control, but close co-operation with the R.A.F. is being sought.

FEEDER SERVICES

Commercial requirements are not being neglected. Plans for a new local passenger and mail service have been drawn up by local interests.

There internal feeder services will become increasingly important when the Empire flying-boat service is inaugurated next year. Then it is believed a regular daily return service over the 500-mile route between Singapore, Kuala Lumpur, Ipoh, and Penang would be a commercial proposition. The aeroplanes under consideration would cruise at about

INTERPORT BASEBALL

Filipino Team Win Easily

DISAPPOINTING GAME SEEN

Playing on one of the best fields that the Colony could provide, Hong Kong suffered an ignominious defeat at the hands of the Calamba Sugar Estate yesterday at the Kowloon Polo Ground in the first Interport baseball match.

The Filipinos scored too easily, and hammered in five homers in only six innings. The game was called on account of darkness at the sixth innings with the score at 20-4 in favour of the visitors.

Dave Leonard and Bill Muir, for Hong Kong, were the most outstanding, the former making some splendid catches against the sun, while Muir scored the only home-run for the Colony side.

All the pitchers for Calamba took turns at the mound, while they used the same catcher throughout the game.

Hong Kong used only two pitchers, Jones, of the Mindanao and Mikuni (Japanese), Moore, also of the Mindanao, caught.

The line-up of the Calamba team was as follows:

Raymundo—ss
Ramon—cf
Codinero—rf
M. Saberon—c
Sta. Rosa—lb
Ramos—2b
Zafra—3b
E. Saberon—lf

Armando (pitcher) substituted by Navarro, Bautista, and Doc Santos, respectively.

Hong Kong's team was as follows:

Horton—ss
Moore—c
Dough—lf
Hearther—lb
White—cf
Vacca—2b
Smedley—3b
Muir—rf
Jones—p

Leonard replaced Dough in the first inning, and Yasuda took Barros's turn at centre-field after Barros had replaced White.

Takeda substituted for Smedley at third. Arculli took Muir's place at right-field, and Mikuni replaced Jones at the mound for the last innings.

These frequent changes did not do the local players any good, but the fact that they had not played together before could easily be seen at the outset of play.

Although only a small crowd witnessed the game nevertheless the gate receipts will be a welcome addition for the beginning of next season.

FRIENDLY HOCKEY

The Police "B" hockey team defeated the Royal Welch Fusiliers yesterday at the Police Training School ground by two goals to one.

The first goal scored was an easy one, and the next by the Police was from a penalty bully. The soldiers did not do as well as expected.

THE MAJESTIC AS TRAINING SHIP

The Admiralty decided on August 21 to buy the 56,000-ton liner Majestic, formerly owned by the Cunard-White-Star Line.

She will be converted into a training ship for naval cadets at Rosyth pending the building there of the naval training establishment provided for under the national defence programme.

This one-time German liner will now become the largest and best-equipped training vessel in the Navy.

140 m.p.h. for an approximate running cost of 1s 6d a mile—allowing for capital outlay and depreciation.

The British Admiralty have ordered £10,000 worth of Malayan timber for use in the construction of the new graving dock at Singapore naval base.

The timber will be used as shores and stocks for the ships which will use the dock for repairs.

The new dock, which stands on the site of former swamps, is almost finished. It would be just large enough to berth the Queen Mary.

LEAGUE TENNIS

Chinese Beat C.S.C.C. In "C" Division

In a "C" Division League tennis match played at Causeway Bay yesterday afternoon, the Chinese Recreation Club defeated the Civil Service C. C. by six sets to three. Scores:

P.F. Li and P.H. Kwok (C.R.C.) lost to Faro and Agafuroff 5-7; lost to Wood and Bentley 2-6; beat Simpson and Bowstead 6-2.

ANGLO-JAPANESE WRESTLING

London, Sept. 16.

The wrestling match between English and Japanese Olympic wrestlers held at the Stadium Club to-night ended in a decisive win for the Japanese by four events to one.

In the bantamweight, Kojiro Tamba outpointed Alcock. Mitsuzumi Zutani won a featherweight bout beating Taylor on points, but in the other featherweight contest,

INTERPORT BOWLERS

Colony Team Due Back To-day

The Hong Kong Interport lawn bowls team, comprising A. Hyde-Lay (Captain), F.V.V. Ribeiro, P.E. Knight, A.E. Coates, H.A. Alves, and J. F. McGowan are arriving this morning aboard the N.Y.K. liner Chichibu Maru.

The team went to Shanghai on September 6. They lost the Interport, Shanghai winning two of three matches of the series. The scores of the first two matches, in the Northern team's favour, 18-15 and 30-9 while Hong Kong won the last match 20-13.

Coates, McGowan, Alves and Hyde-Lay represented Hong Kong in the first two matches while in the third match the Colony rink comprised Knight, Ribeiro, Hyde-Lay and Alves.

A series of matches against Shanghai Bowling Clubs were also played.

KOWLOON CRICKET CLUB

SUCCESSFUL CRICKET SEASON REPORTED

Prize Winners Announced

The annual report of the Kowloon Cricket Club issued yesterday discloses an expenditure over income amounting to $218.72. In the previous year it was over $1,300.

On the sporting side, N.A.E. Mackay is top of the first eleven batting averages while Frank Goodwin, the Interporter, heads the bowling. In the second eleven both batting and bowling honours go to George Lee.

The annual general meeting of members will be held in the Club House on Friday, September 25, at 5.30 p.m.

The Committee's report and statement of accounts for the year ended July 31, 1936, is as follows: After charging the Income and Expenditure Account with Depreciation on the Club House, Fixtures and Fittings, Billiard Tables, and Gear, amounting to $5,622.32, the account shows an excess of Expenditure over Income amounting to $218.72. In the previous year the excess of Expenditure over Income was $1,300.61.

The Entrance Fees for the year ended July 31, 1936, were $930.00 as compared with $1,150.00 for the current year.

MEMBERSHIP

Since August 1, 1935, 45 new Members and 24 Lady Subscribers have joined the Club, 10 old Members have rejoined and 65 have resigned or been struck off for other reasons. The present Membership is 277.

The Committee's record with deep regret the death in Bombay, of Mr. F. P. Shroff.

ENTERTAINMENT

Several Dances were held during the year. On the whole they were fairly well attended, but your Committee think that they should have received stronger support from the members.

The New Year Eve Fancy Dress Ball attracted a large number of members and their friends and proved to be a great success. No doubt this annual event will become a standing feature of the Club's social activities.

Several Whist Drives were held but unfortunately did not attract as many of our members as your Committee had hoped.

GROUND

Both grounds have received careful attention during the year and are in excellent condition. The Lawn Bowls green is mentioned in our Bowls Conveners' Report.

CLUB HOUSE

The Sub-Committee report that the Club building has been kept in a good state of repair throughout the year. The roof of the premises has again been examined and notwithstanding the recent heavy rains, has held water-tight. Slight damage by white ants has been discovered but immediate remedial steps were taken and we hope that this pest has now been eliminated from the Club premises. The question of colour washing and painting the whole Club premises will however have to be considered soon as the walls and ceilings are showing signs of wear.

CRICKET

The Club enjoyed a very successful season.

The 1st XI won the Senior League Championship and the 2nd XI, although they did not head the Junior Division, proved to be a very keen team and one that was hard to beat; out of 15 matches played, they were only defeated once, and of the 8 matches left drawn, time only on several occasions prevented an outright win in their favour.

George Lee, who is now approaching the veteran stage, is to be heartily congratulated on heading both the Batting and Bowling averages in the 2nd XI.

Several familiar faces will be missing during the coming season, but both teams should be quite strong, and it is hoped that the formation of the Junior Section of the Club will induce young Cricketers who have just left school to join up and so help to build up the teams.

LAWN TENNIS

The Tennis section of the Club had a very active year. The keenness shown by the members who supported the various tournaments has greatly added to the popularity of this section.

American Tournaments. — A number of American Tournaments were held during the year and were well supported.

Annual Tournament. — The Annual Tournament has still to be completed but the remaining fixtures should not take long now. League Tennis. — Considerable enthusiasm was shown this year by the members to play in League matches for the Club and a record entry was the result. Seven teams being entered in the League. One team in each of the "A," "B" and "D" Divisions, and two teams in each of the "C" and Mixed Divisions.

The standard of tennis being good, the Club is already assured of good positions in most of the Divisions. Unfortunately, owing to the high cost of tennis balls the Committee will have to carefully consider the advisability of entering so many teams in future unless playing members are prepared to bear part of the cost of tennis balls.

LAWN BOWLS

Many of our younger players have taken part in League matches this season, both in the first and second Divisions. Those who have been promoted have proved themselves worthy of their selection which augurs well for the future welfare of this section. The various competitions are well advanced and should be completed by the end of September.

Our thanks are due to Mr. S. J. Houghton for this valuable work as green ranger. The green is in excellent condition.

BILLIARDS

This section of the Club has enjoyed a very successful year.

Our Tables have been re-covered and are in a good condition. Both Tables have been well patronized.

The results of our last tournaments are as follows: —

Senior Championship: — Winner, M. N. Rakusen; runner-up, R. P. Phillips.

Junior Championship: — Winner, F. E. Lawrence; runner-up, M. Pagn.

Handicap Tournament: — Winner, C. E. Watson; runner-up, Major E. J. Bonavia.

Your Sub-Committee report that the practice of smoking over the tables whilst playing is still prevalent. Your General Committee take this opportunity of requesting offending players to refrain from this bad habit.

BADMINTON

The question of reviving the game of Badminton in the Club was considered by the Committee. Various suggestions were put forward but owing to the present financial condition, the Committee was unable to support any of the schemes as the same would involve a capital outlay which the Club is not at present in a position to sanction. The most practical scheme placed before the Committee was to utilise the spare ground now used as a vegetable garden for the game but unless financial support is forthcoming from members interested, the Committee is faced with the same difficulty as indicated above.

CHILDREN'S SPORTS

This Event was held on 1st January, 1936, with its usual success. The thanks of the Committee are again tendered to the many generous subscribers, and to the ladies and gentlemen who so kindly assisted.

PRIZES

The Committee thank the numerous donors of Prizes for various sports competitions.

FLYWEIGHT TITLE FIGHT

Lynch Knocks Out His Challenger

Glasgow, Sept. 16.

Benny Lynch of Scotland, defending the World's European and British flyweight championships, knocked out Pat Palmer of Battersea in the eighth round of a scheduled fifteen round fight here to-night.

The men met in the open air before a crowd of 40,000, which was treated to a display of fast and furious exchanges.

Lynch had the heavier punch, was more accurate and more fleet of foot, and he gained command of the situation as early as the third round, after delivering a devastating right to the jaw.

Palmer was most aggressive and despite the punishment he received, attacked Lynch's body at every opportunity.

He went down in the seventh for a count of six, and was saved by the bell.

The end came when Lynch landed a smashing right to the jaw and followed up with a swinging left to the solar plexus. Palmer went down in a heap.—

PHILIPPINE MINING NEWS

The proposal made by the directors to increase the capital stock from P250,000 to P500,000 was unanimously approved by the stockholders of Agusan Gold Mines, Inc. at a meeting held in Manila recently.

The shareholders, after listening to a report of the company's position made by K. H. Hemady, president, also approved the purchase of equipment for a gold washing plant to cost about P110,000. This equipment will be ordered soon, it was learned.

Present holders of stock of the company will be permitted to buy the new stock at par at the rate of one share for every two shares now held. Mr. Hemady stated that Agusan Gold will be listed on the stock exchange to comply with demands from the public.

In his report to the stockholders, Mr. Hemady explained that the meeting had been originally planned for September 8, but was changed because of the death of Wenceslao Trinidad, one of the Agusan Gold directors. It was Mr. Trinidad who suggested the increase in capitalization, Mr. Hemady said.

RESOLUTION PASSED
A resolution of condolence was passed by the stockholders, expressing the sympathy of the company to the family of Mr. Trinidad.

Only a small part of the company's claims has been tested, but P437,000 has been blocked out in river gravel, and about P2,600,000 more is estimated from panning at random.

The total amount spent for exploration, operation expenses, and equipment, so far has been P37,343.97. A profit of P15,000.00 was made from the sale of treasury stock, leaving a balance of P22,337.88, which is nine per cent of the capital stock.

NEW OPTIONS

Several options on mining property have been secured, one of them on about 800 hectares. One-tenth of this property has been tested by a licensed mining engineer, who estimates that more than P700,000 is contained in the area tested. The company's property lies near Agusan, in North Mindanao.

An engineer is to be sent to check estimates soon. Mr. Hemady stated, and the result of his examination will be presented to the board of directors for their action.

The operation of Agusan Gold has been economical from its very start, he said. No salaries are being paid to the president, vice-president, secretary-treasurer, or directors, and the only expenses of the Manila office are for salaries of a bookkeeper and a clerk, and incidental supplies, amounting to not more than P100 a month.

If some of the stockholders do not choose to purchase the new issue, the unsold stock will be offered pro rata to the other stockholders; any stock remaining after this will be offered to the public at market price.

WORLD'S SHIPPING LOSSES

Nearly 800 Vessels
Lost Or Scrapped
In 1935

REGISTER FIGURES

During last year the mercantile marine of the world was reduced by 796 vessels of 1,502,813 tons. Of this total 709, of 1,421,006 tons, were steamers and motor ships, and 86, of 81,807 tons, were sailing ships.

These totals, which exclude all steamers and motor ships of less than 100 tons gross, and sailing ships of less than 100 tons net, are taken from the statistical summary of vessels totally lost, broken up, condemned, etc., which was published recently by Lloyd's Register.

The figures, compared with 1934, show a decrease of 650,656 tons as regards steamers and motor ships, and an increase of 39,911 tons for sailing ships.

BRITAIN'S TOTAL

The total tonnage broken up during 1935 amounted to 1,214,621, as against 1,268,133 tons in 1934, a decrease of 53,512 tons, and actual casualties show a decrease of 57,233 tons.

The tonnage of vessels owned in Great Britain and Ireland which were broken up during 1935 amounted to 471,467, as against 557,340 tons in 1934.

Two British vessels were abandoned at sea, four foundered, seven were posted as missing, three were burnt, four were lost by collision, 27 were wrecked, and one was lost, but cannot be classified—a total of 48 British ships.

The full total of vessels of all nationalities, lost by these means was 248, while 548 were broken up or condemned, including 164 belonging to Great Britain and Ireland.
